A CROSS-POLLINATED FASHION EVENT AT NEW
HYBRID ART SPACE TRAUMABARUNDKINO
INTRODUCING 4 EMERGING DESIGNERS FROM BERLIN

PRESS RELEASE

NOW YOU MAY TELL THAT I'VE BEEN SEEN BY YOU

[A cross-pollinated fashion event introducing 4 emerging designers from Berlin]

WHAT:

Trauma Bar und Kino is thrilled to present the cross-pollinated fashion show NOW YOU MAY TELL THAT I'VE BEEN SEEN BY YOU, which brings together fashion and contemporary dance. Exploring the body and its movements, we merge the inner and outer expressions through an emotional approach to fashion. Four emerging designers from Berlin showcase their varied, gender free collections in the intimate framework of a versatile and fluid performance.

The myth of Diana and Actaeon outlines this show – a venture into the conflicts inhabiting human nature at it's most fundamental level.

The piece exposes primal human behaviour with the implicit price of being consumed by its intensity, as one gradually becomes a victim of their own drive. We explore the dimensions of voice as the only non-organic form of expression in the human body. We channel its raw power outwards. Exercising unprocessed, unfocused anger as creative liberation is an authentic form of shaping one's presence. Unleashed acceptance of raw aggression and its tones. Non-judgemental embrace of its potential. As the inner struggle takes over the body, words become ranting, demeanour becomes rage – a fully rounded human being shines through in all its complexity.

WHEN:

24. November 2018

Doors open 20.00 | Show starts: 21.00 | Afterparty from 22.00 [Ciarra Black (No-Tech), AUCO (No Shade)] | Entrance: 10€

(The after party features two of Berlin's most exciting young talents: Ciarra Black and AUCO. Ciarra is an explosive force with roots in the NYC techno underground, while AUCO masters a high-energy, genre-less sound that is uniquely dark and playfully experimental.)

WHERE:

more about the designers and creators of the event:

DESIGNERS

DON ARETINO

Don Aretino invites a shift in perspective – investigating the fear of the unknown, he sets the viewpoint in an isolated space from which otherness is to be invaded, alienated. Solar, insular. Hybrid nomads evolve within islands of contemporary meaning and wonderment

MARIA MIOTTKE

A complex labyrinth unfolds through the coloured glass of Maria Miotke's vision as she creates composite identities based on narrative sequences of dreams where dimensions mingle and nature fools the viewer with patterns and designs

OLGA KHRISTOLYUBOVA

How can we fight for things we believe in? What forms can strength and resistance take nowadays? How can our will to fight be born with the fact that we, and the whole world, are falling apart? Olga Khristolyubova's work explores the symbiotic conflict of vulnerability and aggression through intertwining military functionality with the exposed nature of undergarments and bedding

JOHANNA LIEBL

Shadows move, shapes come into sight – a fraction of inadvertance – and they're gone. Johanna Liebl generates 'aesthetics of disappearance'; ethereal forms, diaphanous membranes; mirrors, ungraspable glimpses of existence vanishing into a parallel world, into one's own self
